

Do Not Read Further If Weak In Heart Or Mind!

Future Recent History 2020

Data Set Analysis
January 29, 2012

Asymmetric Language Trend Analysis
Interpretation and Predictions for 2012 / 2020

By cliff high
halfpasthan.com
2012

©All Rights Reserved

Future Recent History 2020

Copyright 2012 by cliff high

Published in electronic format on January 29, 2012.

All rights reserved to the author. All rights reserved

(yes, recognizing the corruptions of the times the statement is but the sop of a required language tribute to the legal system.)

Introduction – A determined level of unreliability

The choice for our title for this report was deliberate. Here we are looking back at exclusively [visible] language from a perspective of our longer term value sets only.

The best view to adopt in reading this is to frame the information not as 'what will happen next?', but rather, "what will happen next in our future that will be visible as recent history from 2020".

This report only uses longer term data for the source of its interpretations. This longer term data is the total collected to date for the Shape of Things To Come report, with some of the longer term sets from the older ALTA report series. That this report has no immediacy data types, nor shorter term values means that the detail layer is very 'thin'.

This necessarily produces an inbuilt level of unreliability due to a number of causes, not the least of which is the ability of humans, once alerted to rising flood waters, to get out of the way and thus not be drowned like silly buggers as was forecast. The ability to shape our common consensus future is within our collective mind and will, so now is a good moment to exercise both.

At the time of this writing, we (terrestrial humanity) is less than 3/three months away from a nexus point of maximum confusion. This point has been clearly shown to us over the last decade of this work. Early on, we interpreted the data points with one set of bias, however that changed over time as events manifest and forecast trends matured into reality. That we still have ambiguity about this single period in early 2012 contributes to both despair and optimism. As you will note from the duality that expresses itself in this document, the future is not yet fixed.

We also know with certainty that merely working to glimpse the future actively alters both the common perception as well as the emerging reality. This 'seeing it, alters it' effect may well be at the crux of the flux (as we call it here at hph).

The flux, or 'discontinuity', is that period from March 2 through March 10 of 2012. This, according to our data modeling, is when the potential shifts through probability to become manifest and thereafter everything is different.

Our problem is that we cannot tell which larger future potential will manifest. Will it be the Giant Mega War to Kill Off Most of Humanity, that the [entrenched powers] are trying to engineer? Or will it be [planetary revolution (more or less peaceful) that leads to a not unpleasant planetary social chaos as we all learn to live with each other and our newly liberated free-energy based toys]. Personally, the choice does not seem hard to me. Down with the entrenched powers, i'll take freedom, pie, and point me at the hidey hole with the reverse engineered alien space ship in it....we'll get an international consortium of geeks on the task, and will be turning the info out 'open source' style within months of the planetary liberation.

But it will not, apparently, be that easy.

The flow of the data sets these past years has painted a much more confusing picture than can easily be presented by the seemingly clear choices indicated at the archetype level.

There was a temptation to present this longer term information as 2/two separated views of the future, but after a long consideration and many reviews of modelspace and its accretion patterns, it would seem that the blended approach is probably what universe wants.

Meta Data -2012 and The Planetary Discontinuity

Following all of the longer term data sets from 1997 to the present day we have seen a developing, and forecast, trend of [exposed duality] or a [split] between the [rulers/elites /officialdom/minions] and the [growing numbers of awake humans within the populations of earth]. As the trend manifest in reality, it became clear that the data was correct in 'assigning' this trend to the larger archetype of [contention]. Further as the meta data layers developed, they also forecast that [contention] was to have dominated in 2011.

The flow of the data into modelspace as it has been progressed forward these past few years has [contention] ending in what is described as a [3/three way struggle] in very early 2012. In a coincidence with the Mayan concept of decreasing size steps in a fractal time model, each more packed with change than all the previous periods, we can note that the meta data flow from 1997 to the present follows a self-compressing spiral in the formation and periods of dominance of various meta data layers. While the [contention] layer will have had dominance over this last year (2011), within the early days of 2012, the replacement layer of [secrets revealed] takes over. True, [contention] is still around through to late July of 2012, but its level of dominance of modelspace wanes rapidly.

As modelspace is progressed into 2012, the [secrets revealed] meta data layer jumps up to dominance in the first 3/three months of the year to reach its initial peak of activity on March 2, 2012, though the meta data layer persists through 2013. During this period of [secrets revealed], we note that [energy (unleashing/unconstrained)] is forming rapidly in many different entities and it moves into position as the dominating meta data archetype by March 9, 2012.

From March 2 through 9 inclusive represents the peak of the building tension language. The movement of modelspace after this point no longer provides dominant building tension. We are able to progress modelspace out to beyond 2014 (with some difficulty) and there is no sign to that point of the return of building tension language.

IF, and it is one of the huge big IF's, but IF we were able to associate building tension language with the [entrenched powers], and there is some small justification for thinking that we may so do, then it would seem reasonable to say that the [entrenched powers] have their point of destruction within the plateau period of March 2 through 9. Note that without regard to whether the [entrenched elite] are able to start their global thermonuclear war and exterminate most of humanity, the [entrenched elite] are no longer dominating powers after March 10, 2012, though as with all entrenched despots it make take us a while to actually remove them all from the planetary social body.

However, this is explicitly NOT saying that all be birds singing, crops growing, and light and love following that day. In fact the data suggests years of much struggle and hardship and huge levels of suffering, BUT at least we will be returning humanity to its 'natural' or 'organic' state, that of continuous release language as we all interact together freely without an over arching 'guiding force' being foisted on us by self described 'elites', who collectively and individually have clearly demonstrated themselves to be not human, and to have shit for brains.

Potential, Probability, and Outcome

In forecasting events at any level from long term trends analysis to the extreme short term forecasting such as gambling, there are three distinct states involved. These are potential, probability, and outcome.

As with all other aspects of forecasting, if you alter the environment to affect one of the three, you can instantly constrain the others. As an example, if one stands before an empty pool table with a pool ball held in your hand there is, at the time of the holding in the hand, neither potential, nor probability that the pool ball will end up in any of the holes on the table. But the moment, actually fractional part of a moment that your will changes your mind and there is active intent, then instantly potential manifests, as does probability. At the point that you have intent, you have created potential, probability, and outcome, even though the latter two are still dithering about in a state of in-deterministic dancing until the potential becomes manifest probability by your release of the pool ball from your hand. Note that there are all kinds of probability that exist at that point, and indeed for the deep thinker probability, and even outcome are predetermined, but without going that far down, we need to remember that it is even within probability, once the ball is released, that it would not even reach the table, let alone fall into any particular hole.

Of course, things can be done to alter potential, and thus probability, towards reducing certain outcomes. Sometimes this is called cheating, such as in pool when the table itself may be tilted a certain way in a slight degree to favor one side or end over the other. In this way, the potential for the ball to 'naturally' roll into the affected areas is controlled, and so, practically, is the probability, and thus even the outcome is constrained. This, by the way, is exactly how the small number of nasty bastard reds and blues control the rest of humanity, by tilting the environment over time. By cheating.

So this is the point at which we find ourselves, stuck between our as yet not manifest will and the doom included in the spread of outcomes. We know that several of potentials at this time include warfare in many forms all leading to the probable outcome of mega deaths on a scale never before achieved (since we humans get better at sheeit over time, war included). It is, as of this writing in the last days of December 2011, still within both potential, and probability. How much of a probability would bring it down to numbers which is speculation that needlessly invokes monkey mind.

To my thinking, a far better way to perceive this moment, is that the entrenched powers, thinking themselves elites, are working to tilt the table to cheat most of humanity of their lives. The entrenched elite are desperately working to create environmental conditions that will spark the next, and last (for our species) global war.

Our data shows a distinct transition point from March 2 through 9 inclusive. Thereafter we shift into release language. Permanently, or as close to that state as may be forecast from this point in time. It makes sense to consider, from the perspective of this moment in the waning days of December 2011, just which things in our environment we can change at this moment, to help tilt the table back away from their death spiral for our species.

The real reason to bring up the whole 'time stream' concept of potential, probability, and outcome, is that most will overlook the idea that, even within the example cited, we are not constrained, here in the matterium, in how we alter outcome. The bad guys 'cheat' by trickery, and illusion, and hidden table rigging.

We, the regular humans seeking our paths in life, can do so, that is 'cheat against war' by creating novel forms of potential. We can start ahead of the chain in that sense by circulating new ways of thinking that in turn will create new potential that in turn creates new probability ahead of the war to kill almost all humans that the entrenched powers are so desperately trying to drive into our immediate future. In ways we could not ourselves envision, though we can certainly see the 'potential' in so doing, each time we create a new potential, multiple new probabilities are also created. These then lead to yet new outcomes....some of which will not involve the last humans alive stumbling out their final minutes in confusion on the corpses of their families.

Reducing the great taoist master Lu to 'now speak'...."if you add value to universe, universe will reward it by creating more potential in your life to add yet more value. In this way, terrestrial beings may manifest personal power".

In the study of power, there are none so astute nor succinct as martial artists who have frequently observed, "be in harmony with universe, and though you may be killed, you cannot be defeated, and that is real power."

To those who 'read signs and portents', the time is now. There is no more time after March to alter your future as it will be upon you. If you are going to do anything, now is all you have.

Your destiny arrives in March. Are you ready?

Complexity Shock: Cresting with the Wave

The shift into release language in March is unlike our previously discerned 'tipping point' of 9/11/2001. In that instance the data forecast a planetary change that would alter life thereafter, but there were no signs of any discontinuity. In the forecast of the 9/11/2001 incident there were accretion patterns that put us (planetary humanity) back into building tension language a mere 3 days after the [entrenched elite] had staged their attack on the [populace] of earth. In the case of the March 2012 shift into release language, there is not a 'return' to building tension language. From the accretion patterns, it does not look as though 'business as usual' persists past March 10th .

Within the Matterium, all is directed toward the production of ever increasing complexity. This conclusion can be logically derived from the understanding of the nature of the pulse/pause that is the core of the continual creation model. It started as one pulse racing across a self defined self enclosing 'space' to bounce off its self created walls and return to collide with itself repetitiously and endlessly creating ever more complex patterns of collisions. Each pause wipes it all out that it may be recreated again so fast that you miss that part of reality entirely, only with each recreation at the rate of 22 trillion times a second, the level of complexity compounds itself yet again. This is the nature of matterium, and thus provides, as Bucky would have it, 'the general case extractum' from which we form the 'knowledge' that 'universe (and all who sail in her) is striving for greater and greater complexity'. Here on earth (as Terrance McKenna sus'd out, 'humans are the pinnacle of the complexification organism that is universe'.

We, those voyagers in the matterium, reach a point where the universe propelled complexification becomes 'observable'. Note this word. Likely we will also have [visibility] of this within the msm (lying mainstream fucktards pretending to be journalists – Matt Taibbi and his ilk excepted with respect), but the aware observer will be swimming in the shockwave of the ever new now long before the msm can muster the coherent thoughts necessary to describe the contexts of the emerging reality around them.

It is our understanding that the 'complexification wave' will be observable in March of 2012 as we top the building tension language. Now, noting how universe manifests, it continually produces surprise. In fact, the expression of the complex of emotions that is 'surprise' is likely a very good indicator that the human has just encountered 'new complexity'. Having observed the 'surprise factor' component to how universe choses to manifest, it is unlikely that we can, in any meaningful way, imagine the experience of cresting with the complexification wave.

As surfers or sailors we may think we have a 'body clue' to what is coming , but that is likely ego led presumption as this is neither wind nor water which are bound, but rather it is the underlying complexification of universe that starts a never ending crest. Once we are in the froth of it, we will all 'know', and all prior to that is observation, speculation or deduction. Or misdirection...yes, 'they' will still be trying their shit right up to the crest.

What is palpable is that we (terrestrial humanity) are close to this upcoming experience.

You feel it now.

You have felt it coming for some time.

It, that feeling crawling up your shadow, is the shockwave of the future as complexification collides with itself to produce the manifestation of the infinity wave.

We are of the Raven Clan. Overcoming. A moment of pain, A lifetime of pride. Row Hard.

Complexity Shock: Five versus Four, does Six appear?

The longer term data sets indicate that 2012 will be [defined] by the [complexity shock].

This [sense of shock] is so [vital/alive] that it will be [personally affective] of nearly all humans/life on earth. In the descriptors of the [complexity shock], we have repeated sets that provide some sets going to the broader response patterns of the humans who endure the [complexity shock]. These patterns include the frequently forecast [drooling humans] who are [struck dumb] by the [process (of) living through the complexification wave crest]. Additional descriptors include other [responses], including [SOC's (self organizing collectives)], and what we are calling [shockwave riders]. These sets refer to what must be considered as a [new (in the 21st century) human]. These [shockwave riders] present a [new psychology], and even a [new physiology] that will be part of the forecast [new definition (of being human)]. In some cases the [shockwave rider ] will [present] as an [idiot-savant], while in others the presentation will be [specifically focused (within an otherwise 'normal' human)], and in yet others, something of a [synergistic emergence] appeared.

All of these (and others not discussed) responses to the [complexity shock] are those that proved enduring enough to make it into the longer term value sets, though we note that this did not indicate effectiveness.

In the organization of reality, many orders of life (in the taxonomic sense) here on terra are what can be called 'fourth order'<sup>1</sup>. A key characteristic of 'fourth order life' is that there is little to no outward differentiation of individuals. Think insects...basically, within their sub-order divisions, all insects of a type look alike. In contrast, third order life is where there is no individuation amongst individuals (think amoebas). In fifth order life, there is differentiation between individuals. Think humans where the exception is any form of physically identical characteristics, and even then, as with 'identical twins', there is differentiation mentally.

While we live on a planet where the first, second, third, and fourth order life is dominated by the fifth order beings, ourselves, it must be noted that our bodies/minds/ki may be fifth order, our [organizations] are distinctly [fourth order] in their operation. The [mass process/mass consumption/mass production] systems that characterized the past age of humans are distinctly 'fourth order' in principles and operations. It is a true statement that most of the additional (beyond expected/normal) suffering at the individual human level through this decade (2010-2020) resulted from the transition contention between fourth and fifth order thinking. That [fourth order concepts] had to fail as an operational modus for the human species was imposed by universe, nonetheless, additional suffering was generated by those humans addicted to, or limited by, fourth order thinking who futilely attempted to restrain universe in its progression to the [fifth state of being].

---

<sup>1</sup> Note that the Mayan long count calendar records the movement from the 'fourth sun' to the 'fifth sun', coincidentally.

It is worth noting that the progression of life is through bifurcation of near parallel paths

(i.e. complexification), and as such the fifth order life (humans) and their fifth order thinking was evolving while the fourth order was dominant and reaching toward its zenith which then instantly propels toward the nadir. As 2008 represented the zenith of the fourth order thinking, it was anticipated, and even forecast, that 2012 would include the first appearance of [successful fifth order thinking beings/work/organizations/???]. As a final note on the 'orders' of life, and bearing in mind the universe penchant for what we call 'sheltered development'<sup>2</sup>, it is reasonable to expect the appearance (likely unnoticed) of sixth order life in the midst of our emerging fifth order reality. But... will we recognize it?

Markets

The longer term data sets have very little for the [markets] as we currently understand the idea of [global risk and speculation debt based 'capital' markets].

The cessation of the building tension language in March 2012 was/is correlated with the degradation of the [global currency systems] as well as providing the [three 'spikes'] that [puncture] the [balloon of planetary derivatives] in a [massive catastrophe (financially)] in or around the June solstice of that year, 2012. The [2012 derivatives destruction] produced nearly [destroying deflation] on a level and scope that had never before been seen on earth (we think).

The [deflation explosion of 2012] rocked the world. In a sense, given that the actual initiation of the process began in March, the [derivatives destroying (damaged documents) debacle] of [late spring/ early summer 2012] should have surprised no one, yet, given all the ruckus globally, apparently many humans were caught unaware.

That the planet [shed] over [90/ninety percent] of the [notional 'wealth'] in such a short period was perhaps the hardest part for the [populace] to accept. Thus the [street demonstrations] planet wide in 2012. Of course, losing the first 90 percent made it only slightly easier to lose 90 percent of the remaining 10 percent over the next few months.

Yet at the same time, real 'wealth' in the form of calories of stored food, energy, the knowledge/skills to grow more, produce more, sky rocketed in value.

This was the greatest wealth transfer in history. The quadrillions of paper debt dissolved into constituent fibers releasing the bonds that have held down humanity these last thousand years and a newly reborn species emerged from the cotton cocoon of paper currency debt.

Oh, as a side effect, the metals (gold, silver, nickel, copper et al) as a representative for calories in a trade ready fashion, also saw their nominal 'values' skyrocket in all currencies (while the currencies themselves had meaning).

---

<sup>2</sup> Sheltered development is a phrase from the study of life systems. It refers to the observable strategy presented by life in universe in matterium to develop replacement life inside the 'sheltered containment' until it is ready (willing or not) to express itself as a stand alone life in universe.

Markets, as places of speculation and greed and exploitation, faded as the decade progressed into a resource constrained economy globally and 'smart' became synonymous with successful in a world free of laws and lawyers. In the developing resource constrained world of the 2011 to 2020 decade, the successful models did not have internal parasites such as central banking and masonic courts and 'managers' as a class. In the new world it was [produce or die], and as central bankers produced nothing from nothing with nothing at risk and yet demanded something from everyone for their no risk no work efforts at producing nothing, they died. As did 'markets' as places of speculation and exploitation.

Universe became too serious for such non productive endeavors, rather suddenly, and especially in our local part of the solar system.

Terra

The expando planet brings mega floods across the tropics as the planet flattens out even more over the next decades. The peak would seem to be reached between 2017 and 2022. But the tropics are not the only region to experience [flood crises], as these were one of the [defining characteristics] of the ['tween years'] of 2010 through 2020.

Floods were very consistently present problems as earth expands and the ocean beds rise, pushing water up into many river and delta areas. As the years progress toward the late 2020's the ocean waters have eroded many coast lines. In a strange juxtaposition, many of the new coast lines become deserts due to alterations in both ocean and jet stream current patterns. Much of the progression of the flooding into coastal France also pushes desert like conditions into Germany. To some extent the river valleys leading into Germany trap the new climate as the coast line edges its way into France, Belgium, Holland, and Northern Germany. Something of a 'seasonal' rain shadow effect will be created in central and eastern Europe by the various mountain ranges. The climate is described as developing in a pattern of overlapping, and even, competing circles of influence.

From 30 north is the latitude of drought. The [upper latitude droughts] are described as [shifts] into [dry season patterns]. These [patterns] of [new dry season] will be [directly] attributable to [solar behavior]. The [new forms of solar behavior] has been profiled for a number of years in our ALTA and Shape reports as [unknown energies (from space)]. The data within the SpaceGoatFarts entity (where we house the [unknown] data) is now showing that [visibility] will bring a [resolution] at least within our common consensus view of the solar system in 2012. The data from a number of entities are suggesting that [space] based changes within the [solar system] will [propagate/induce changes] here on Terra. This will include bands of wet weather circling the planet as a series of storms chase each other through the new jet streams. For a period of some years it will appear that the patterns are working toward a sinusoidal wave bound around the equator. This will produce not only predictably larger storms, but also many more instances of stationary storms where a single spot will become 'home' to a fierce storm, at least for a few [days] to [weeks] of [stationary storming activity].

The recently peaking (in 2020) of the [ocean level rises], will at least temporarily will allow the establishment of more permanent ocean ports, though with the climate still in a state of flux, the ability to maintain sea-routes remains in question.

The general state of [earth movements] due to the [expansion of the planet from the core outward] is regarded to have been the [proximate cause] for [dozens (of shipwrecks)] as [GPS satellites] failed to [keep up with] the [expanding planet]. As a consequence of how the GPS system was designed, and the [inability] of those in charge to recognize the actual nature of the problem, the [shipwreck] phenomena continued longer than it need have as [ground] and [sub ocean features] were [mysteriously moving (or so it was perceived)].

It was not until some of the major earth movements in 2013 that evidence for a larger planet became undeniable even to the skeptics. Prior to that acceptance of the growing planet, such things as [faster than ever winds], [strange oceanic current changes], ['wandering' sea mounts] were a [curse] to [navigation] in 2012. The data suggests that such [GPS wonkiness] will be responsible for at least [2/two air plane crashes] in 2012.

Electric Whips

The huge level of [solar discharges] over 2012 through 2019, included several instances of what became called [electric whips]. These [solar ejections] were devastating to the [electrical warfare infrastructure], as well as civilization in general, but far more so to the [officialdom], than to the general populace (or so we hope from this perspective). There are several data sets with descriptors seeming to indicate that either the [moon] or [earth] is [scarred] by [sun stuff (plasma)]. This appears to have an impact in late 2012, and again in 2013.

As the vernal equinox (spring, 2012) marks the acceleration of [terra changes] with several very very large earthquakes subsequent to large solar outbursts, the [autumnal equinox 2012] marks the serious phase of [terrestrial movements] that caused so much of the actual infrastructure damage.

New rift valleys appeared in many parts of the above water world as well as extensively across the sub sea floor. These rift valleys intruded into several continents as the equatorial bulge of the planet advanced towards the poles.

Longer term data sets continue to show that the [southwest] of the USA will [suffer] an [historic flood] that in turn [creates] an [inland sea] with [devastating effects] for [transportation] for [years]. There are also many linguistic structures that go to the idea of [aquifer impacts] that induce [diaspora].

Other impacts on the [oceanic currents] are also cited as [causing] the [loss (of major) coastal cities] globally.

End of Cycle Ocean Level Change

The longer term data sets have contained descriptors for [ocean level change] that have had continued growth in their supporting sets since early runs in 1999. These sets have large numbers of descriptors in the accumulated shorter term data sets, and detail layers that, over the years, have gone to describe many of the [problems] that will afflict humanity as the [ocean level changes]. The problem is, we have no idea if the oceans will rise or fall, as the language is ambiguous on this point, and, from the vantage of early 2012, can be equally applied to water levels going up, or down.

The issue is that a [port] would be [disabled] if either flooded or deprived of water. After all, if you can't get your ships there, your port ain't worth much. Same can be said if the ships can sail right over the flooded out dock facilities...you will still have [ports failing]. Further, we have a large number of descriptor sets, within the longer term data that have impact levels reaching out into 2040 and beyond, that speak to the [need (to construct) new ports], as well as [new populations] emerging in [coastal regions] that will be assuming much of the work of the [former heavy boat marine industry]. As a small boat sailor this makes sense as the most cost effective way to off load cargo in the absence of fixed port facilities is through small boats. Of course, this does not work so well when dealing with big steel shipping containers....

Part of the problem in the interpretation of this section of the Terra entity data is that the ambiguity of language and the nature of the issue can be 'read' either way. What is certain however, is that the 2020 future history will be discussing our upcoming [ocean level changes] as the [end of a 36,000 year cycle].

In the late 1940's through the 1970's, the 'problem' in the minds of many scientists was one of the [oscillation] of weather patterns, and whether the weather would 'settle' into cold or warming. This was of particular interest as regards the oceans. If it was to be warming, then a series of hot, then cold years was forecast that would end in one really warm winter in which vast quantities of [ice] would melt globally initiating a [critical mass] of [thermal transfer] that in turn would raise planetary water levels both directly into the oceans by [glacial masses] sliding off into the water, but also through [torrential rains] that would rush to the oceans, taking much of the surface of the some areas with them. Now, the alternative is that the shift would go towards the [cold] in which one really warm winter would have vast quantities of [ice] melt which would raise humidity levels globally such that in a strange [reversal] of normal [patterns], a [storm] would start in [late spring (northern hemisphere)] that would not stop until several years later after moving around the planet several times dumping vast [torrents of water] over lands. This storm would be so large as to create a [cold front] ahead of it that would be [self perpetuating] to the extent that much of the [outpouring] would turn to [ice] on reaching the ground regardless of the time of year. Note how much of the language is able to be interpreted either way.

The unambiguous part of the longer term data has to do with the [economic] and [social] damages caused by both the [terra changes (in land forms/ocean levels)] and the [diaspora]. The data shows that over the decade over [2/two billion coastal people] will be [moved] by [adverse (sudden, unexpected, unavoidable) weather conditions] accompanying the [end of cycle ocean level changes].

The unambiguous descriptions within these data sets include [9/nine (major) port cities] in the USA alone that will be [lost/abandoned/shifted] due to [water levels change]. This scene is repeated globally as humanity has to [rethink] its [investment in coastal infrastructure] as the [coastlines] themselves will be changing. The data sets include totally new [city states] that will emerge due to the [local populace] being able to [adapt] to [new ocean levels/conditions]. There are also large numbers of sets going to the idea of [new trade routes] due to new [ocean currents/conditions] as well as [changes in planetary wind patterns]. Further these [new trade routes] are also described as including [areas abandoned due to radioactive hazards].

Noting that thinkers in the 1950s on the subject suggested that it would not be able to be determined which way the planet would go until it arrived there (either new glaciation on land masses in summer, or winter time ice melt in arctic), they were nonetheless prescient enough to predict the oscillation component to the climate patterns of this decade.

Terra Incognita

Now, the caution of the [unreliability] factor accepted, and noted, the data sets have clear indications that the [earth] and several other planets including [venus] and [mercury] will [alter their relationships (with) the sun]. This is NOT described as a crustal shift, nor even a magnetic pole shift (though this latter does occur in early 2013), rather this descriptor set provides a view of a [new solar system environment] that will include a [tighter relationship] between the [planets and the sun]. In many more ways than humans are able to perceive during this period of the [planetary changes], the [alterations (in solar relationships)] will have profound impacts for the species on Terra (not only humans). While some components of the [new solar territories (orbits)] will provide the expected changes in life patterns here on earth, the data suggests that very long term impacts, as in thousands of generations, are also on going at this time. The data suggests that the [new relationship] with the [sun/solar system] will alter [humanity] at a level [deeper (than) DNA]. The data also indicates that this new [solar neighborhood] will cause [new life] to be [developing], and not only on earth.

The issues with [habitat changes], [ocean level changes] (ed note: most probably a steady rise in ocean levels with a small chance of a rather swift fall (if ocean floors spread again)), and [radiation levels] will have combined by 2020 to create a [new terra incognita] as much of what humanity thought it knew about earth will have been altered beyond recognition.

Terra Trembles

The [earthquakes] in the [western american coast (PNW?)] and the [southern rip (gulf of california)] regions produced the first [continental electrical isolation events] that were coincident with the [fire storms (also on the west coastal prairie environments)] of the late Summer 2012. These [fires] also show as extending into near [winter] in 2012. Both caused the [electrical grid rethink/redesign] as a result of the problems encountered in producing and distributing during regional disasters.

The [volcano population explosion] planet wide is showing as reaching [global awareness] in 2012 as THE primary [disaster producers] for 2012 through 2016 (other than solar expulsions, new planetary solar environment, species migrations, and a few other bits of tussle).

The [volcano problem] will include [sinkholes], and [lahars (mud flows)], and [ruptures] as well as the more mundane (pun intended) lava and eruptions. Further problems will be associated with [underseas volcanoes] and the ['end of cycle' ocean water level change].

GlobalPop

While the global revolt against the entrenched power structure took its [head (vision/lead)] early in 2012, the [visible] fall of the [bankster empire] in early 2013 was merely the beginning of the [decade of change].

Rebuilding the [black hole of (lower london)]. After a decade of [turmoil] and [destruction], the [black hole of london] is finally cleared out by 2025 and is being [excavated] by the [committee of proof] one last time prior to returning top soil and bioremediation. Some of the influences that create the [mire] include [late season flooding] in [low lands] that in turn force large scale, and [permanent relocation]. Whole [villages] and [planned communities] are [shifted]. Some others are [displaced (onto the water/boat people?)] as [low land farm] and [reclaimed lands] are [flooded], both by [water], and [industrial remnant debris].

Depression sweeps across [anglo common wealth] as [china] and [allies] shift to [home purchases] for [commodities]. Further there are indications that a major [alliance] between [china], [russia], and [japan] will be [exporting (manufactured 'raw' commodities)] by late in 2019. The largest [economic crashes] as a result of the [new commodities (replication technologies)] occurred in [australia], [new zealand], and [canada].

The [transformation] of the [oceans (and atmosphere) currents] through 2014 were directly causal of the [diaspora] that afflicted not only the [island peoples] (floods, and new, climate changing, currents), especially those between 30 north and 30 south latitudes, but also [plains peoples] on both North America, and the Eurasian continent (due to winds, floods, weather extremes). This [diaspora] is itself credited with greatly increasing the complexification process as inter human communications, and personal interactions were taken to new levels by the [discontinuity] of 2012.

The longer term data sets indicate that [scientific understanding] that takes place over 2012 through 2015 will also [shift humans], though the language points toward a [mass consensus shift], so not a physical kick in the pants, but rather a universe [smack in the head].

The sharp increase in [planetary disruptions] of 2012/2013/2014 was directly causal (though anticipated?) of the [governments] of the planet, especially the 'developed world', going batshit.

The whole of the [reverse immigration] or what will become known as the [backwash (of illegal immigration)] globally may have begun in 2008, but with the developing [greatest depression] in Europe (and the USA), the planetary [draw (of jobs/better life)] disappeared and over the decade of the ['betweens' (2011-2020 inclusive)], much of the [globalistas' agenda (for busting 'cultural harmony')] unraveled. The [backwash] became in mid decade such an [open movement] that the [development rates] of many of the former [failed states economies] jumped appreciably when the [best and brightest] started [returning home]. That the successful [reverse immigration] produced [higher quality of life] and [cultural harmony] in [former birth lands] drew so many of the [recent immigrants] and their [families] that [immigration routes] developed to support the [reverse flow]. As an aside, many of the [immigration routes] also were of great assistance during the [2012/2013 diaspora].

The forecast [relocation (diaspora)] of the [japanese populace] began in earnest in mid 2012 as the [populace] became aware of the [abandonment] of the [country] by the [rich]. During the period of the [terra intrusions] as well as the [solar storms] the [radiation refugees] continued to stream out of the country. At first it was merely the [rich], but then as the trends started to become generally accepted across Asia, millions of Japanese sought ways for a life outside of Japan. This led to the [offers of self slavery] that were as [prevalent as internet inheritance scams for several years].

The radioactivity from the Japanese and American nuclear plants damaged by the earth changes of 2011, 2012, and 2013, and beyond were/are a dominating factor for planning over this last, and likely the next three decades as life in the Northern hemisphere gradually gets adjusted, such as it is, to frequent radioactivity episodes. The 'hard rains' and 'glow fish' problems continued until 2018, but were directly responsible for the flurry of environment clean up inventions from 2016 onward. Perhaps the most impressive to date was the engineering of the [disposal worms (green wigglers)] that find surface radioactive particles and then consuming them, carry them deep into the soil to be ejected as encapsulated waste. In those areas where the habitat did not support [green wigglers], the [rolling spiders] provided much the same service by eating radioactive substances from the surface soils, and bonding them to its exoskeleton. As the winds blow the dead spiders around in ever growing balls of entangled exoskeletons, the appellation of [rolling spiders] seems appropriate for these [desert collectors] of stray radiation.

The radioactive pollution of the atmosphere and the oceans placed huge strains on the [food body] of the planet from 2011 onward, with the increasing problems of [oceanic death spirals (due to radioactive flooding in 2015)] reaching their (presumed) peak in 2019. The combined impact of [climate change] and [radioactive poisoning] is widely credited with the [death waves] of this decade (2011-2020).

Ingenuity Centers

The [ingenuity centers] that developed [flourishing responses] to the [twin devils of climate change and radioactive poisoning] were the first to develop into the model of the modern [city-state] that seems likely to dominate the 2020's and beyond. That universe forced humanity into Arcosanti style development seems to have worked out, at least in that much of the [preparatory design work] had been considered in great detail. The [ingenuity centers] therefore, are naturally thought to evolve into the [new university models] as well as [departure points] for [teaching missions] as well as [local repository nexus] for [collective development efforts].

The early years of development are not yet behind the emerging [city-state] consensus model that appears to be spreading planet wide. It may be expected that this new model will take centuries to mature against manifesting climate and solar changes.

The impact of the multiple sources of radioactive poisons into the environment cannot be overstated, and will yet not be completely known in 2020. Though the impacts were felt on the food supply all through this past decade (2011- 2020 inclusive), the results of consuming the [radioactive poisons] will still be manifesting over the next [two/2 decades].

The [ingenuity centers], being sources for [clean food and water (free of radioactive contaminants)] were/are natural drawing centers for [talented minds]. This has led to the [university] movement among the [city-states] planet wide. While crucial to planetary research and development, the [isolation approach] to [coping with climate/radioactive pollutants] has its weaknesses.

Water Tribes

Alternatives to the [ingenuity centers] have taken many forms as those humans of a more solitary nature have taken different approaches to the common problems. These include the growing [water tribes pan global nation], as well as the [salvagers' clans], though it is admittedly difficult to differentiate these groups as their interests and territories frequently overlap.

The [water tribes nation] developed as the outgrowth of the [common interests] that are facing [water/boat dwellers] across the planet. The internet and newer developments have made the [ocean/coastal dwelling humans] into a very large SOC (self organizing collective). As the [planetary flooding] of 2011- 2016 proved to be [permanent] in so many places, the [climate refugees] began the process of becoming what are now recognized as the [ten thousand tribes (of the Water Tribes Nation)].

Both the [water tribe nation], and the [scavengers clans] are at the edge of creating solutions to [climate change impacts] and [radioactive contaminants]. With the poisoning of the oceans, and the emergence of the [radioactive species] within the [benthic ocean environment], the [water tribes nation] has become collectively host to [tens of millions of experiments/experiences] with [personal body radioactive clean-up].

The [water tribes nation] also has developed innumerable ways to obtain [fresh foods] in a [tainted environment]. The true cleanliness of the [food supply] for the [water tribes nation] will not be actually known for generations as [mutations], [incipient dna damage], [longer term cancers], and [sudden (encounter based) cancer cluster 'flowers'] will be a fact of life for the [water tribes nation] for decades.

The [water tribes nation (*coastal dwelling, oceanic peoples)] as a context shares many data sets with the [sources] of its [nuclear radioactivity contamination] sub sets. Primary among them are the [fukushima], and [usa river suite (multiple plants on same river)], and, most ominously, the [israeli mistake] sub set.

Zionists' Gamble...

The [israeli mistake] sub set, long foreseen, debated, missed, put off, is reborn in the longer term data. It would appear that 2012 is the year that the [zionistas] have decided to [push] the [gamble] to the limit. The data shows that the [edge] of the [launch] their [attack] on the [iranian people] is reached. This set shows that IF fulfilled in 2012, the [zionist gamble] will be that they will have the [israeli's] attack [iran] without [usa support] with the idea being that a [false flag attack (on the USA – naval fleet (vincent??))] simultaneous with their [air strikes] on [iran] would [draw in the suckers (usa)]<sup>3</sup> especially as the [usa] had [military assets] stationed along strategic corridors to support just such an operation. However, it is a big gamble....what if they (the suckers?) do NOT play the game?

<sup>3</sup> More accurately, to [provide usa officialdom with reason (enough) to convince usa populace to go along with new war.

Entrenched elite 'disappeared'

That the [zionist gamble], as a 'war' would have lasted mere days should not diminish its impact on the planetary populace en masse. There are many historians who would have credited this single [failed military attack] as the [trigger] for [planetary (effective) revolution] against the [central bankers/warfare/tpbt]. The absence of the [israeli versus iran war (in 2012)] allowed other circumstances to force the [planetary population] to [active rebellion], but without doubt, the [zionista failed gamble] was at least directly proximate to the [death squads] and the [short, violent] dirty war that [briefly] raged among the [former entrenched elite]. The [deaths] of over [20/twenty thousand] high ranking members of the [secret societies] and [officialdom] at various levels was brought to an [abrupt halt] with the [entry (of an apparent) 3rd party] in the [conflict] who rapidly [destroyed (the) structure] of the [controlling elite]. There were many [signatures] of the [actions] against the [entrenched elite] that produced the [conspiracy theory] that it was [civilization 1:1 (shadow planetary military)] that [ended] the [inner bloodline conflict] by eliminating the issue....[the bloodline].

That the [zionist gamble] did NOT [draw in] the [usa military] was seen by many of the [dying minions] as the [shame of america]. The day of the [failed (planned) attack] on [iran], the [zionistas] briefly tried to [guilt] the [american officialdom] into [action] by [blackmail] of several different forms. What the [zionistas] had not considered was the [deep fractures] that [separated] the [american military] from both its own [officialdom (long known to be zion-tainted)], and the [israeli high command]. The [american military] successfully thwarted the entry of the [usa] into the [failed zionist gamble]. This likely prevented all out nuclear war with both russia and china that would surely have destroyed the planet.

Sorcerers Palace

The [austerity] and [anti-corruption] riots in Rome in 2012 were begun within weeks of the sinking of the Concordia cruise ship by its playboy captain who (apparently as of this writing) was 'distracted', to say the least, by our forecast [blondes on boats]. The linguistics of the Concordia, carrying the 'ship of state' label by virtue of having 13 primary decks named after EU countries, merged with the language surrounding the [collapse of the euro] in 2012. While the slow [death process] of the [euro] amidst the [global currency degeneration/deflation] was accurately predicted by the Shape reports, it had not been possible to separate the language blending of the 'shipwrecks' of the Concordia, and the European Union monetary experiment, aka, the 'euro'.

The longer term data sets have 2012 as THE year for the [italian hydro-cracy]. This new form of [nationalism] will define itself by its [core belief/policy/precept] of [halting (at the) water's edge/shore line/border].

The [spread of the protests against corruption] will/did lead to [riots (over food/austerity)] as forecast in early Shape reports. However it was not foreseen within those reports that an actual, physical, [push against crumbling masonry] was the cause for the [breach in vatican security]. The 2012 temporal 'peg' for the [collapse (of the vatican wall)] within the [secrets revealed] meta data layer dominance period showed that the [protests] leading to [riots] were part of a [season (of political disruptions)] that preceded [blood on the streets], and the [smell of gunpowder on the evening air]. It was this latter, the [murder of protestors (by 'private' police)] that led directly to the [fall of the (assigned) government] and the [creation] of the [new city state model] with the [italian regional independence movement].

The [opening (of the) vault (of secrets)] of the [vatican/sorcerers] participates as a [focal point] for part of the [secrets revealed] meta data layer. The meta data layer [secrets revealed] has a large number of [leaky points] that include the [vatican/sorcerers palace] and others of greater significance to the [immediate problems (as viewed from 2012)].

Again there are data sets suggesting that the [civilization 1:1] will somehow be participating in the [secrets revealed] within the sub set of descriptors about the [vatican (horrors) secrets] coming from the [time of the rome food (austerity) riots].

Phrygian caps

As a component of the [disorder (against) control] movement that swept through Europe as a larger background to the [liberation (of the) vatican loot] during the [riots in rome], a series of [new symbols] appear across the noosphere. These [new symbols] are frequently [reminiscent] of [previously denied, universal themes]. Many of these [new symbols] will [evoke ancient themes]. Much of the [new symbols (phrygian caps et al)] will be updates, but nonetheless, these [new symbols] become [viral components] of the planetary social body and coincidentally appear just as the [msm propaganda whore press spin machine] dwindles in effectiveness, and then rather suddenly, surprisingly so, dies.

USSCI

These temporal markers [rome riots, phrygian caps] are also useful in defining the [last days (of EU empire)] as the [EU ministries] begin to [crumble (on exposure) of corruption] as the [funding flows cease]. The data sets suggest that the [revolution (of the phrygian caps)] will be [anchored] by the meme of the [corruption (that cost lives)]. Again the data sets show a very much [patrician (eu ministries)] versus [rest of us (plebian)] mind set developing within this confrontation that will [fracture] the [EU] into basically [2/two zones]. This will be those [supporting/benefiting] from the [empire of ministry], and the [rest of EU].

As a natural expression of the mood of terrestrial humanity at the moment, a number of [small states (city-state/regional confederation)] will arise from the [planetary riots/protests/uprising] of [Summer 2012 (northern hemisphere)]. In both the GlobalPop and the Populace/USofA entities, there are sets describing [sit-ins (occupations)] that will [morph] into [new forms (of) self organizing collectives] that will in their turn grow into [new city-states]. The data has these [city-state] seeds planted during the [planetary populace strike] of [Summer 2012 (northern hemisphere)].

In addition to the [hundreds of millions (on the streets/participating)], the [natural] expression of the [populace] within Europe toward [smaller community] and [local rule] that was [thwarted] by the [conspiracy (to create the EU empire from the original European Market Community)] is finally set free in 2012 as the [ministry (of control)] structure [crumbles] under [massive corruptions/scandals/hidden monetary/social debts]. True it was a very scary time for the population of Europe, but as was noted at the time of the [barricades battles], 'every freedom has a cost'.

The data sets suggest that the [european freedom fighters] will take their name from [battles] in [southern italy] that will be [fought] in absolutely [extraordinary weather conditions]. In the end, [officialdom] will have its [largest defeat] handed to it by [irregular (civilian) populace] using [asymmetric tactics] that [reduce] the [battle] to the [military stooges of tptb (at war) with themselves].

The longer term data sets show that the [old EU empire] is the birth place of the new [ussc (union of self-defining, self-organizing collectives (independent))]. This movement is indicated to grow over the next century toward a form of [organic planetary organization] not unlike what is seen in successful coral colonies. Unlike south sea corals, humanity's reach into new forms of organization will be, just as birth, a messy, noisy, and emotionally charged trauma with unforeseeable consequences.

The data sets show that the 'birth trauma' for the [new ussc] begins in 2012 [summer, northern hemisphere] where the area will have hundreds of thousands of [minions/officialdom] versus [population] 'incidents' globally. At the core is the economic systems failure of early 2012.

Famine!

The data sets clearly set out 2012 as the year in which [famine] at the [global level] emerged. This set of descriptors shows that [hunger] worldwide became (by mid 2012), a [primary political motivating force] on all [continents]. Further, the [political politeness] of [previous decades] had been caused to [fade] due to [famine]. It is against a [rising global death rate (dramatically there for all to see who wished to see)] caused by the [deadly twins (radiation pollution, and dwindling food resources)], that the [new world order mob] decided to try to stage their [(second to the last) hurrah].

As an unforeseen consequence of the [global famine (planetary resource depletion)], the formerly 'pariah state' of [Cuba] became the [sustainability university to the world]. The [credibility] of the [Cuban method/policy] becomes so [respected] as to have [Cuban supervised food/urban agriculture universities] established in dozens of countries due to [demand]. The [Cuban agricultural revolution] impact is still unfolding in 2020, with no sign of reductions in return from that particular design pattern (self-unfolding, self-modifying self-sustainable, locally cooperative agriculture and resource sharing). The spread of the [Cuban model] across the [former USA] was slowed significantly by the [political upheaval] and the various [revolutionary manifestations]. The longer term data sets point to the [chaos] of the [discontinuity] as [grasping (the) attention] of the [populace] that [was asleep] such that [delays (impacted)] the [flow] of the [change states] through the [populace]. The [summer of discontent (street actions)] in the US also had [infrastructure] impacts that further magnified the [famine impact] on the [planetary populace] through the [disruptions] in the [global distribution] of [food] and [resources].

Disappeared Countries

Terra intrusions continue to [drive/propel] the [planetary diaspora] from 2012 through 2020 and beyond. The [flooding (due to monsoon patterns shifting)] as well as the [stationary storms] phenomenon will have caused a number of [countries] to [fail] as [social institutions] by 2020. These will include the expected [low lying island states], but also (surprisingly) many [mountainous countries]. The plethora of problems associated with both the expansion of the planet as well as the [orbit rearrangements] will have produced the worst decade ever for [sinkholes], and [mudslides], and [highland floods]. It is difficult to maintain a national cohesion when the planet is continually (daily/weekly) destroying the recently rebuilt infrastructure. Such technologies as mobile communications work, but only as long as the stationary towers remain both upright and stationary. Further, no technology exists that can quickly replace infrastructure such as bridges. Especially repeatedly.

New Tamojin(s)

In many areas of the planet there will be new climate problems of such magnitude as to cause local populations to relocate. Some of these relocation's will necessarily need to be permanent. These climate change induced population movements will create a more or less permanent [new population class] of [climate refugee]. This population demographic will vary continuously in membership, yet stay constant as a population sub set of the planet. The longer term data sets show that several [charismatic personalities] will arise from the various [displaced persons] groups over these next few years. Some of the [charismatic personalities] will exhibit [planet changing behavior]. This class we are labeling as the [new tamojins] after the leader of the ancient mongol peoples, known to the west as Genghis Khan. This is more of a title, and means 'king of the peoples'. These were a horse based herding society that was displaced by major climate shifts in a very short period, and they set about altering the interaction of much of terrestrial humanity of their time (in the west it was called 'invasion'). The whites were invaded by the brown men; saw the effectiveness of the idea, and used it to invade the red man's home....going around. The longer term data do not suggest invasion, but rather [new forms of social structure] that will be [demanded] by the [permanent populace (of displaced persons)]. Also note that whole new forms of human habitation, as well as [service providing (infrastructure)] will develop as a result of the climate changes and the permanent population of weather refugees.

Populace\USofA

As the European [financial implosion/contention] began to [balloon out of control] very early in 2012, the [american government (officialdom)] at all levels had a [serious brain fart] and [over-reacted] to manifesting circumstances. That the [entire american social] and [government infrastructure] had been [infiltrated] and [subsumed (taken over)] by the [zionist globalistas] was likely the motivating factor at the highest levels of [miniondom] here in the (former) USA.

Federales' Fartensie

There are indications that a [continental] level of [debate] will emerge late in this decade (2019/2020) over whether it was the [government/officialdom over-reaction] that actually [caused/initiated] the [break up/fracturing] of the [United States of America]. True, the [zionist infiltration] of the [government] and the [media] within the [social infrastructure] was a [direct (though mostly hidden) form] of [colonization/invasion], and at some point had to reach the end of its cycle, but the language forecast from the longer term sets about this issue seems to point to a conclusion that if the [government/officialdom] had merely [chilled] during the [years of financial turmoil], then [hatred] of the [federal symbols] would not have been [driven so deep] into the [collective psyche]. It is the [emotions] that become [irredeemably fixed (to) symbols of federalism] which will be viewed from the perspective of 2020 as [the definitive wedge] driving apart the [various factions] within the [social order]. Ironically, future history will note that it was the [common collective view (of hatred for federales)] that [spurred mass actions] as well as [individual/small initiatives] that resulted in the [redemption movement (within the continental US)], as well as the [secession movement]. The [financial collapse (of California as an institution)] that began the [separation efforts] of the various [states] was 'merely coincident' with the [federal reserve rape (of all private (non debt bearing assets))] according to some views of history, but it will be noted in the future that the [decision] to [appropriate (the) 'national savings pool'] was the [final federal government act] prior to the [dissolution] becoming [visible].

Of course, the attendant [cutting (of) all entitlements] within the [social order] caused a huge level of [social disruptions]. From the view of history, the [2012 discontinuity] was more [devastating] to the [populace] of the [planet] in general than to those who were of the [money hoarding class (banksters)]. As the [banksters' system imploded of its own weight], the [slaves (to the banksters)] were [jettisoned] at an (to them) alarming rate. The single largest data element that stands out from the long term data sets about 2012 is the [shock (at the) speed (of change)]. The longer term data sets, admittedly without the details provided by the other data types, present the idea that 'seemingly' (or it will be remembered as...) the whole of the [social programs (of the government) of the USA] fell apart, or were [abandoned] in less than a [month]. The [impression] that is [left upon] the minds of those who lived through it, is that the [process of dissolution (of medicare, social security, state's welfare benefits, food stamps, et al)] happens [almost overnight].

Of course the [populace/usofa] reacts [badly] to the [sudden obsolescence] of their [former way of life]. The longer term data sets include some descriptor sets that go to the various ways in which life-as-we-knew-it was impacted. These sets contain references to [colleges] being [squatted en mass], as were [empty subdivisions]. In some cases, squatters were [banding together] and [demolished inner zones (for common grazing lands)]. The data sets also include [barge gardens], and [floating factories (biological fermentation production of base chemicals and compounds)], and [building gardens]. This last has some descriptor sets of language that is similar to descriptions of the [hanging gardens] of mythic times. These data sets speak of [mining buildings] for [steel] and [other base materials], but also of [new forms of construction], including a movement that is described as [colonization]. This new form of [colonization] is a reference to [invading (the former world structure)] and [hollowing it out from within]. These [metamorphoses] of the [former corporate landscape] are described as [natural (and thinking) adaptations] to the [sudden coagulation (of the financial system)].

Falling Apart....

The [zionist gamble] that led to the [israeli mistake] also directly led to the [first (effective and public) military revolt] in US history since World War 1. Not only were there [anti-war former military personnel] on the [streets] in [protest] of the [zionist gamble], but also, concurrently, a [rebellion] or [contention between opposing factions] period took place within the [military of the usofa]. This led to the [intractability] that produced [no participation] within the [zionista (rothshields) gamble] by the [usa military]. However, there were other issues that participated as well.

California will be [let go] or [abandoned? (perhaps it succeeds in seceding?)] by the [federal government]. Among all the states, California was first due to the [removal of (all) funds (into a) state's bank], and the [resultant 'dispute'] with the [federale's (federal reserve bank which is not part of federal gov't, has no reserves, and is not a bank)], however, the rest of the [dissolution] happens so fast that it is only later, as [history] is being [compiled] that an [accurate time-line] of events can be reconstructed. Primarily the [separation] is [discovered] by the [local populace] rather than having it [announced] by any form of [authority]. In many states the [governor/officialdom] owed its existence to [federal impositions] in one form or another, and these states found themselves with [fleeing 'leaders' ] as the [federal system] reached the [discontinuity] and [melted down]. In many [jurisdictions] the [judicial system] collapsed next as its [federal support/martial impositions] also faded away. There were those small areas where [masonic judges], and other [power tripping humans usually of lower intelligence] attempted to set up [fiefdoms], however the excellent [marksmanship skills] taught by the [former US army infantry] and the huge abundance of trained, displaced marksmen, soon put most of these areas into [free state] status.

...to come together

Though there were people who labeled the [social disruptions] and [break down] of [federalism] in the USA as [civil war], the data suggests that the [denouement] of the [masonic experiment (Federal USAism)] was actually ended by the [crash (of the banksters)] more than by any other events that subsequently followed the [planetary banking implosion] of early 2012.

Again it needs to be noted that [building resentment] was [manipulated] for [decades over the last century] by [officialdom] in all its twisted forms as a [divide to rule] strategy. However, with the [crash] of the [financial structure] an unexpected/unanticipated (by officialdom) consequence rose to the fore: the [flow] of [baksheesh/bribes/corruption] was the among the first [victims] as [government] attempted to [preserve itself (at all costs)]. This sudden lack of the flow of [corruption] did more to [expose] the [guilty] than any other single component of the financial system implosion.

Then the second, though slightly anticipated, result was the [failure] to [pay civil servants], including [military personnel]. As forecast and was expected, without the strong arm of a loyal (and paid) military, the system dissolved down to only those who had actually participated [directly] in the [corruption stream]. Thus self isolated, the problems were resolved reasonably easily in the beginning of what later became known as the [restructuring] that led to the [second confederation convention] late in 2018. By that time the [continental consensus] of [cooperation] not [competition] as an effective model had become well rooted in spite of the continuing perpetual chaos of [constant reorganization].

The [Planetary Discontinuity] of March 2012 brings with it not only perpetual release language, but also [years of/for struggle/suffering] here in the USA, as the [discontinuity effect] breaks down the [toughened (and) corrupt federal bindings]. Of course, the [spring planetary banking crisis of 2012] did aid the [dissolution] of the [corrupt federalist system].

That the [planetary fractional reserve bankster system] imploded in 2012 is not forgotten, but is frequently over looked as a triggering event. When the [banksters corruption] reached the heights of [self consumption] the [bernake (and) the other minions] within the [control structure] of the [federal reserve system] tried yet one more 'experiment'. Of course, this last also failed, but due to the factual need for [scaling (of) economies (i.e. every bubble has to be bigger than the last)], the [devaluation] of the [dollar] triggered such a [wave of abandonment] as to [magnify] the [production (of new dollars)] to scales described as [unimaginable]. The [magnification] came as a result of the conjunction of [global bond crisis], [monetizing (US govt debt)], and, curiously, [crashing private debt] and [increased savings rates]. The result was to place a [hyperinflationary squeeze] on the [banksters] as [dollar creation ballooned out of control], just as [massive reductions in spending globally]<sup>4</sup> resulting from the economic stagnation were [augmented] by [deflation] within the [housing/real estate/share/paper debt markets] globally.

Retirement Rape

The [banking system implosion] in 2012 began with the [attempted devaluation] of the [federal reserve note]. The direct impacts of this decision fed (haha) all manner of problems in 2012 including the [national and regional strikes], the [works slow downs], the [riots (over rape of retirement savings via devaluation)], and the first of the [nationally (continental) effective tactics (against the entrenched elites)].

Much of the impetus for the [former middle class] to [participate] in the [billion human march day of protests] is certainly attributable to the [sudden poverty] and subsequent [famine waves] that rose from the [devaluation] and [banking system implosion].

That the [mainstream media propaganda whore press] was [exposed] during the [riots] as [blathering shithead stooges] is credited with [propelling] the [national/continental movement] to its early successes. As the data would have it, and not to betray too much too early, an [incident] of, well, let us call it [occupation] will take place in which the 'victim' of the [occupation] is a [press whore remote truck (or similar facilities)]. These will be [occupied] in such a manner as to be a [planetary sensation (on the teevee and internet)]. It would seem that the ['owners'] are not able to [cut off] the ability of the [occupiers] to [beam out the message].

The [death (of the) american conservative movement] was directly attributed to the [crushing debt burden/dollar implosion] and other [economic conditions] as a [lack of funding] causing the [death knell] for [conservatism] in the US. However it is my conclusion that the [american conservative movement] fell apart due to the [planetary discontinuity] being breached in early 2012, with the underlying thinking being that all of universe is constantly striving to create greater levels of [complexity]. Thus [conservatism] as a [political/life] ethos was doomed from its inception as it is precisely an attempt to 'return to a simpler time'. It is my argument that since [conservatism] is counter trending to universe, it was always a 'limited time scale' manifestation. When the [planetary discontinuity wave] hit in 2012 and [complexity] began to feed on itself asymptotically, this 'crossing of the event horizon' overwhelmed the [inherent delusion (about being able to take universe backwards) of conservatism], and it 'crashed and burned'. However not before participating in the [secrets revealed] meta data layer ascension that swept through the [planetary social order] in 2012. The [conservative 'movement'], as a [political/religious controlled organization] fell due directly to the [secrets revealed] outbreak that resulted from the [dollar deflation/death]. The [inability] to [continue bribery], and [intimidation payouts] at the [top (of the) control structure] brought near [instant dissolution] and [internal factional infighting]. As a 'working ethos' the [corruption, intimidation, bribery, envy, and fear] method that bound the [top layers] of the [elite power structure] proved to be very weak in generating real [loyalty] or [cooperation].

Within the Populace/USofA entity, the references to the [crossing (from) june (into) july] of 2012 proved to be very prescient indeed as it was the [crushing summer (of 2012 northern hemisphere)] that actually produced the [nexus] that the [illuminati/masons/and other entrenched elite's secret societies] had [so long feared]. Though, of course, not for the reason that they thought. Still, the net effect of the [secrets revealed] meta data layer rising just as the [complexity threshold] was crossed producing the [planetary discontinuity] that disrupted, yet fulfilled ALL the [dire prophecies (without meeting a single one)] should not be lightly dismissed. From the point of view of the linguist, aware that [language] is not limited to speech or writing, and is a far greater tool for universe to increase complexity exponentially, the timing of the [planetary discontinuity] clearly speaks to the larger discussion of the 'active participation' debate<sup>5</sup>.

Breakouts at the event horizon...

The [dissolution] of the [federale's empire] was clear from the early months of 2012, though it took nearly a decade for all of the various remnants to be [replaced] or to [wither] for lack of [purpose]. However, the 'event horizon' of 2012 was 'sprung' from the [break-outs] of [spring and summer revolution] here in the [USA]. Though the [rape of the retirements] and [abrupt cessation of entitlements] was cited as a proximate cause, the underlying issues have more to do with vibrations flowing through the solar system and their impact on human psyches.

The [Spring of Outrage (2012)] over the [dollar death (devaluation by virtue of government default)] led directly to the [Summer of Chaos]. In that fateful [summer of 2012] the [planetary revolution] against [banksters] and [corruption in officialdom] swept not only the [populace/usofa] but also the world. However, it must be noted that the [revolutionary fervor] within the [american populace] set new records for zeal. Tens of millions were the new standard sets for [social response to needs requests (come mob?)]. The [street presence surges] and the [asymmetric social media murky war] against the [entrenched elites] caused huge levels of [disruptions] in the [USA] that in turn raced around the planet, gaining [sophistication] en route, to come back again, magnified by [planetary participation].

<sup>4</sup> Also aided by the [global strike (day of no spending)] that lengthened into the [occupy our money] movement.

<sup>5</sup> The 'active participation' debate among the cognoscenti is whether 'universe' is 'actively' participating in any personal movement into an enlightened state.

Of course, the [economy] shuddered to a halt as the [banks did not open], and the [officialdom] jumped into [spin mode]. The [huge shock] that tore through what was left of the [middle class] left millions of the [populace] in a state of [confusion], and [dazed wonderment]. This did not stop [millions] from [responding] to [digital theft en masse] or [rbg' (rape by government)] as it becomes known. Not only were [street protests] so huge as to [alter (how the) elites lived]. The [popular uprising] produced the [expected national strikes], and other 'usual tactics', but also have produced a new [order of magnitude] of [complexities] for the [entrenched elite] as they attempted (in 2012/2013) to [cope with] a [wave (of) global awakening].

Unanticipated Alterations

The [monetary system implosion] globally produced all manner of more or less expected problems. These included such things as a [death wave] due to [resource system collapse] within the 'health care' industry, as well as [food scarcity] that led to [rationing] in a wide variety of forms.

Also as may be expected the [global awakening] spurred on by famine, economic collapse, street riots and the intellectual cross pollination that is normal to such circumstances and celestial alignments, created a giant wave of [creativity] in direct response to [dire and worsening circumstances]. The creativity wave still has yet to crest as of 2020. Among some of the unanticipated alterations has been the emergence of a [planetary consensus ayurveda (for humans)] that leads directly to the [first planetary convention (what a circus that will be!) on human ayurveda] late in the decade. However, the usefulness of an ayurvedic life approach was proven globally during the [planetary famines (2012 – 2016)].

Alterations Business

The extent of [mind control], and [information suppression] was so severe here in the USA ['entertainment' and teevee business especially] that the [enlightenment business] is a growth industry through 2020 with no signs of slowing down for at least a decade as yet more [secrets] come to the surface daily. All of the textbooks in the nation had to be rewritten, and still are subjected to new updates on a frequent basis as the [secrets exposing movement] continues to open up long buried information on crimes against humanity. ALL of 'recent' American history had to be [reexamined] in the light of the [terrible lies] of the [officialdom] and the [minion classes] for over 200/two hundred years, but with a notable increase in boldness of lies since the electronic age.

The [re-examination] of [all proffered history] was concurrent with, and intricately linked with the [truth and reconciliation movement] within the [liberated populace] of the [former american empire]. As the [human liberation movement] spread, those who were [trapped (by circumstances of birth, or evil design)] within the [illuminati/masonic/mind controlled black ops world] were provided with a platform from which to [come clean, and 'get righteous'], or to [provide evidence (against a perpetrator)] and [seek validation and justice]. It will be a decades long process, however the [internet] and [indie media] has provided a platform for the most important part (of the healing process now that we have a vague understanding of the vibrational nature of matterium), that of being [heard], and the [saying of the words of accusation] is more readily accomplished (once the legal system of the masonic/vatican/officialdom was displaced by the more rational, common law courts).

Old Hands

To reach back in time ...the trend for all things 'ancient and old american'....started up in Fall of 2012, though did not reach its stride until late in 2019 with the emergence of the first [replicated hand crafts]. This assumes the trend continues into the next decade. The core of the trend has to do with a [desperate search] for the [legitimate (bona fide) "american values"] that are [untainted] by [masonic (illuminati) tptb tampering]. This trend began in 2012 and progressed (as much as circumstances globally would allow) to reach its first burst of growth in late 2013 as the [american renaissance (in all things aquatic)] took off from a [resurrection] of the ['paper boats' (of the late 1800's)]. This particular meme is a conjunction of both the [nautical american return] and the [resource restricted environment thinking] of this decade.

The new renaissance of [creative thinking] here in the USA is part of a [planetary wave] of [personal exploration] that blossoms, in part, due to the [suppression (by the entrenched elites/religions)] for centuries.

Shifting Sands

During the [oceanic upheavals] in the [mega flooding] of 2012 - 2015, the [populace/usofa] began the series of [diaspora] movements that came to characterize much of this decade (2011-2020). Those [coastal communities] that were proactive, and were populated with [aware thinkers] were able to [stay ahead/flee from] many of the [displacement causing/inducing] water level problems of 2012-2018. The several [surge floods] (likely due to expansion events), were particularly devastating to large areas of the [gulf of mexico] and [gulf of california] low lying lands that have been lost to [permanent ocean intrusions].

The [return (to core skills)] expressed as the [competent american/sovereign person (of skills)] movement of late 2012 emerged in direct response to the [collapse of the global ports system (and subsequently the loss of large scale shipments in many areas)] and the [sudden resource drought]. This, along with the rise of the [Cuban agricultural/resource model], and the [diaspora], and (whew) the [lack of contention] in some areas, allowed for new [core skills (for the future) centers] to develop (within the old US empire) along the [new trade routes].

The [impacts] of the [ocean level changes] as well as the [climate shifts] produced the [inland seas] of [central california], but it must be acknowledged that the [expansion event(s) land mass cracking] was the actual [triggering event] for the [land rupture] and subsequent [ocean intrusions]. The [populace] of the [region] thought that the [rupture] was [merely] a series of [earthquakes] until the [separation] of the [coastal rise] and then the [in rush of ocean water] filled up the [inland basins].

New Plans

As the solar system driven planetary changes altered life in America as we knew it, groups across the continental and cultural divides began discovering more reasons (post 2013) for [continental cooperation]. From climate change induced earth changes which in turn caused wide spread diaspora (population displacement from usual places and patterns of habitation), to [political system breakdowns] and [national level revolution], and [military revolt], the [populace/usofa] was forced, over 2012 through 2015 to actually [reinvent] the [future image] of their lives, and what potential was available for their children.

Though much of the [discontinuity shock] was a [delayed reaction], the [process] of [self examination (in relation to a universe reshaping itself)] proved presciently valuable when the [major solar system changes] emergence escalated in late 2012. As these [earth changes as fallout from solar system shifts] caused the [new american landscape] to begin to manifest, they were a physically present metaphor for the [soul changes] that the [nation as a people] were undergoing due to the [secrets revealed] meta data layer ascendency and the discontinuity.

The on going [volcano garden bloom] in the south pacific ocean, while providing actual and potential mineral wealth to fund the rebirth of humanity, is also altering oceanic currents and thus weather for all those [down planet] of the event. This includes, due to [planetary solar system relationship alterations with the sun], the [north american continent]. The [weather/climate] changes greatly alter [life in these united states] as growing seasons are changing planet wide, but nowhere quite as severe as in [north america]. The combination of oceanic and atmospheric influences have conjoined to create seeming [perpetual flooding], and massive levels of [unexpected land erosion]. These and other factors contribute to a [renaissance] of [adaptations], especially in [agriculture], and all forms of [farming]. The data sets include references which are only partially meaningful from this vantage, but seem to suggest that [indoor algae farming], as well as [gelatinous mass (sorry, word for it not yet invented) culture/cultivation (for fuel?)] will be 'growth industries' in the near term, future, recent history.

SpaceGoatFarts

Greatest Show in Space

Space based electrical events were viewed from earth for years beginning with the large 'electric whips' in 2012. Scarring on earth from this space based lightning is still being reported in 2020. A good portion of terrestrial humanity spent a lot of time standing around watching mega sky events during both daylight and night. Mostly these were 'harmless', though that appellation has yet to settle nicely, given all the concurrent earth changes including the [expansion events] such as the [volcano gardens (rising in oceans)] and [splitting continental shelves], et al.

These and other expansion event manifestations were due to magnificent, and continuing solar system changes that continued through 2018 before (seemingly) starting to [quiet down]. The recent, to 2020, apparent slowing of the changes within the solar system as a whole, so far, have not been seen here on earth. It is likely that this is also the case on both venus and mercury. The former continues to provide [visual stimulation] for all manner of speculation, while the latter continues to [gyrate] as a planet should not.

Given the recent earth changes manifesting within the the oceans, and the sudden [ice shifts] in both [antarctica] and [siberia], it is reasonable to expect a period of a number of decades before any sense of [planetary climate stability] will develop. Until then, the [ocean level changes], and the [persistent (permanent) flood created inland seas/lakes] will be a [developing challenge] both here in America and globally. Such initiatives as the [planetary shared energy grid] along the Buckminster Fuller 'global coastal electrification plan' are great, but where to site the coast line in the 50/fifty years it is expected to take to construct?

Mid Atmosphere Humanity

'Flying, inhabited sails' 'anchored' to the 'waters' by 'dragging weighted, hooked, foils' with 'sensor arrays' trailing 'behind' seeking 'pollutants', and 'radioactivity', and 'life signs (bio-assay)'. Two and three person crews, on calorie restricted diets and 'harvesting' energy and air and water from the high atmosphere with a very small foot print on the water. Fantastic speeds, but still aloft for weeks at a time. In the late 'twens'....around 2017 or later. Used to gather data for the [planetary repairs working group]. May persist way beyond 2020 as there are growth patterns in the set indicating a near permanent [human presence] in [mid atmospheric (air) oceans].

Much of these sets are either cross linked or in the supporting chain (or derived chain) of the [water tribes nations]. There are some cross links showing support from the [displaced (by weather/climate/social upheaval) persons planetary soc], but in the main, this area derives its growth and support from the [water tribes nations]. The idea coming from the data set is that the [larger (longer) interests] of the [pan global water tribes peoples] will provide a strange (in per 2012 world view) [dedication TO personal self sacrifice] for [oceanic life at large]. The data shows that from the [self-defining, self-sacrificing, oceanic peoples] were the [source group] for a [new ethos] that produced such individuals as were able to be [mid atmosphere humanity]. Of course the continued technologies development curve also facilitates a rich life while 'owning' almost nothing. The [famine years] were responsible for developing the knowledge and discipline to live, not merely survive, on calorie restricted diets. As an aside it was the continuing and nearly insatiable demand for members of the panax ginseng family of plants as a result of the famine that led to the major rebuilding of the [north american wild crafting (forested ginseng culture)] that is showing every sign (in 2020) of becoming the dominant planetary provider of all manner of tonic plants. Of course the shifting of the planet also plays a huge part in that it altered global plant habitation.

Guided Death

'Guided' death transits by 'electronic vibration monitoring' equipment. An outgrowth of the 'life extension movement', the [guided death transits] will be used in the assumption that [karma control/cleansing] can be mechanistically controlled from within this material universe. The repercussions of this trend will not be able to be imagined until the events transpire. Related to the whole [crypto/proto human vibrational parasite] problem of earlier in the decade (2011 – 2020).

Phytoambulare

Plants of new species or old species rediscovered? Hard to say, but a new wealth of [plant species] will be showing up over this decade. Some of these plants will be shown to produce [chemicals (on demand)] from deep soil roots when certain genes are activated. So, need iron? Germinate some 'iron-harvest weed' seed over your known iron rich deposits, and watch the plants pump the stuff up to the surface.

Other [plant migrations] will be as a result of the [new climate (solar orientation)] that had significantly altered the [heat distribution patterns] around the globe. The new [plant habitats change] was, of course, far more impacting on humanity than any of its own diaspora's or migrations.

Of course the plant habitat change was not without [horrific costs], such as the 'conversion' of the Pacific NW's Puget Sound region into a [Mediterranean] like environment over the course of several years of [raging forest fires] following the [years of flooding] and the [great ocean level change]. Bare Bones

The longer term data sets show a huge increase in the importance of [antarctica] to the whole of terrestrial humanity. While we have long had a disproportionately large amount of data forecast for [antarctica] without any real explanation given the small number of humans who are directly involved with life there, this has now become clear in this examination of the longer term sets in isolation. Given the Ure Postulate that the 'longer we see it in the data, the larger the impact on humans', we can now note that [antarctica] as a subject will grow to become something of a [planetary humanity obsession] over this decade. This [obsession] with all things [antarctic] will include not only the incredible [space based discoveries] of this decade, but also all of the [hidden archeology] and [secret history] of [antarctica].

While the [planetary obsession with antarctica] may have begun with [indie media fascination] with the [impact of water level changes], and the [UFO focused woo-woo world] being [primed] by the [secrets revealed wave] of 2012/2013, it was the actual [exposure] of the [bare bones] of the [under ice civilization] due to [planetary shift (in relationship to the sun)] that caused the [largest shout ever heard].

Prodigal Parents? Or 4th Word?

The [secrets revealed wave] release of the [hidden civilization/military UFO complex documents] in 2012/2013, including the [vatican secret ufo records] component naturally led to the development of the [planetary working group on the Return]. Noting the [fear levels] within the [military minds] as well as the [entrenched elite minions (at least those in the know)], about the [Return], it became evident by late 2013 that the ['reptilian' mind] were the actual problem as their [fear levels] were such that they (the military trained to think this way, and their minion overlords), were exercising ALL parts of the [reptilian mind] over this [soon to occur encounter]. {ed note: fight, flight, and frozen in fear}.

Once the [planetary populace] was made aware of what the [former entrenched elite and their minions] called [THE Return], the process of reason and thinking prevailed. The idea of [fighting it out] with beings capable of actual [interstellar (physical) travel] was [rapidly dismissed].

As the [information] about the [incoming craft/objects] was disseminated globally, it came to the attention of the [nummo (remembrance group)] and they rightly brought forward the information that will have been used in formulating the [response (to the) Return].

New Worlds Visions SOCs

Distantly related to other [vibrational instrumentation anomalies], the [discovery] in 2012 of the [tools] to bring the [vibrational nature of matterium] into [visibility] began something of a [frenzy] of activity that has yet to show (in 2020) any signs of slowing down.

Along with the validation for the [early researchers (in vibrational nature of reality)], and the [vibrational cure for 'disease'], the [new instrumentation] also was a [primary cause] in the [eventual 'outing'] of the [hidden civilization 1.1]..that, and the earth changes that threatened to crush their [hidden lairs/laboratories]. The [vibrational visibility tools] allowed anyone with access to be able to [visually perceive] the [presence] of [other life] at [vibrational levels] not normally viewed by humans. And of course, some of these [new vibrational life] encounters blabbed about the deals with [officialdom], including providing [proof], and [substance].

Once it was understood that the [night vision goggles], and [digital cameras], and other, technologies were able to be [tweaked] into sensing [ODVW (other, discrete vibrational worlds)], then life-as-we-knew-it changed instantly. And the intellectual 'gold' rush was on as [new technologies] were developed so fast as to [surpass (the black ops) 70 year research program] in less than a year of [combinatorial creative development] on the internet.

Of course, as it went viral at the time, the [video] from eastern Europe showing the [capture] and [removal] of the [parasitic creature of a different vibrational frequency] from that poor woman's body instantly brought a revolutionary fervor to what we used to call 'health care' or [the medicine industry].

Drowning in success

As the 2012 [underseas volcano 'garden'] bloomed into the new [south pacific land mass (still mostly sub marine though still rising in 2020)], with many hints that [rising lands] were about to alter [maps] forever, it occurred to a few curious humans to wonder about 'just what is spewing outta all them volcanoes?', and the rest, as they say, is future recent history as the [polynesian island nations] found themselves becoming the [most mineral rich environment] on the planet. Of course, most of the [pan pacific mineral deposition] was underwater, and the rising of the land masses under the ocean had the expected result of raising sea levels...both near and far. It was the 'near' part of that which occupied the attention of the [polynesian island nations] as much of their land masses were threatened. Some of the cultures were also threatened by the [mineral boom] and its expected draw on humans from around the planet.

Crafty Mayans

There are many long term sets that have (since 1997) pointed toward a [threshold] level of [sun disease] occurring in 2012 such that the [planetary populace] is [forced to awaken] to the [new (solar system) reality].

The longer term data sets (most recently collected in 2011) continue to confirm the idea of [massive (from human perspective) changes] within the [solar system]. These changes are to include a [revolution] of the [sun]. This set is within the [sun disease] set of data that has been building continually since 1997. The [sun disease] set has a major descriptor set under the label of [revolution (turning)] that includes new growth through this last data gathering run.

The [revolution] of the [sun] data set includes sub sets for [spots (transforming)] into [stripes]. Further support of this idea includes sets for [old (view/perspective)] will be [reformed] as the [sun rotates/revolves] and [spots (become) stripes].

This process of [striping of the sun] is further described as having [profound] levels of [impacts] on [humans] both as a [species] and as [individuals/groups]. These [impacts] are described in sets that include [oceans], and [atmosphere], as well as [human activity]. This last is further internally cross linked back to the [oceans], and [atmosphere] sets, as well as to the main set of [sun disease]. Within the sets of [impacts] on the [human species] there are repeated references to [revolution] within the [agricultural activities] here on terra over these next [decades] with the [first] and [small] signs of [success] beginning to show by late 2018. The new [solar energy patterns] will also impact all forms of [food gathering] on the planet including [fishing] and other [non cultivated food sources].

There are large levels of support for this set coming from the [yellow sun] set. Now, noting that the past 20+ years have seen the change from a yellow sun to the white sun of today, the references to, as well as the new growth in the set of the, [yellow sun] is puzzling. Of course it could be wrong, or could be alluding to future discussions about the [loss] of the [yellow sun], but at this time the supporting sets are too ambiguous to provide further clarity.

FuturePop – Civilization 1:1 Disclosure

There are a number of indications in the data sets that the [future population (of) civilization 1:1] will find themselves pressured by [underground] and [social] shifts across 2012 and 2013. The pressure points on the [civilization 1:1] that exists as the [shadow world *(of) reverse engineering and new development in hyperspatial/dimensional/vibrational weapons/technology] are [funding] and [exposure]. The data sets show that both are squeezed by the [degradation] of the [global currency systems], and the [discontinuity]. As [funding] was [exposed] due to [corruption] investigations that arose from [the retirement rape (globally)], the amount of [flow of money] through the [civilization 1:1 financial system] was cut to a mere dribble, and almost immediately, the [leaks] of [information] began.

It was through a thousand cuts in the veil that 'disclosure' occurred, not by way of edict nor pomp and ceremony.

Each of the recently laid off, secret clearance, subcontractor became yet another potential source, many of which shifted from potential to actual as the planetary currency crisis worsened amidst the alterations of the planet itself. This background of uncertainty made many whistle blower take the plunge in the crises of the moment.

Of course the [hyper-dimensional/vibrational viewing technologies] also contributed a great deal to the [disclosure issue]. It was a new universe of vibrational energies and life not as we knew it, and there was no going back.

As the hyper-dimensional technologies spread through the civilian population (and were magnified and tweaked), the [disclosure] of [hyper-dimensional reality] became a matter of one's first encounter with a [neighbor, or relative] with a [viewing device]. As this spread faster than Moore's law anticipates, a new planetary consensus reality was forming within the first few months of 2014.

It was a new universe, and there was no going back. As the planet, and circumstances conspired to squeeze the [hidden civilization 1:1] out of the cracks of the earth, the [planetary populace] was already [evolving] beyond the framework of the old, shadow world thinking.

In spite of all of their 'toys', the shadow world was defeated (and absorbed over time) on first contact with a [superior civilization]...their progenitors, unbound, and actively exploring.

Conclusion: The Purpose of Humans -the 21st century warrior code

It is clear from writing the book on the Matterium (yes, soon, soon) that all of universe within matterium is moving towards greater and greater increases in complexity. This can be easily demonstrated as a natural outgrowth of the 'constant creation/destruction' model of reality within matterium....you know, the 22 trillion times a second pulse and pause from the center of matterium.

As complexity is continuously demonstrated by universe as one of its primary operating principles, with humans being at the top of the terrestrial pyramid (so far as we know) in being 'complexity generators' for universe (generators = genset(colloquial) = 'gene' set?...deeper universe involvement within expression of homonyms/phononyms?), it becomes pretty much self evident that an easy way to harmonize with universe is to advance and preserve complexity. This is rapidly evolving as my understanding of 'the purpose of humans'.

When applied as a top level guidance to even the most ridiculous questions, decisions easily fall into place. To wit: should beings be allowed to marry who they wish consensually? Sure, it promotes complexity that is positively affecting the planetary social order as it must, at least at one level, reduce suffering<sup>6</sup>, and fulfill ambitions, thus providing for yet more complexity by getting that out of the way.

To continue with the 'complexity as purpose' for humans applied to decision points in our daily lives: should we allow expressions of pedophilia? Nope, that area of the sexual behavior range

---

<sup>6</sup> Suffering shuts down humans, and spirals them inward, thus blocking their expression, therefore is anti-complexity. Yes, everything that humans experience at some level increases complexity, however such as suffering, torture, rape, pillage, war, et cetera are all types of complexity that is described as 'self tailing' or 'inwardly spiraling' and thus are 'dead ends' as the complexity that arises from such does not propagate outward into humanity in a way that promotes other, greater expressions of complexity.

promotes suffering which is anti-complexity. So, nope, we don't support species retardation behavior.

War? Well, sure you can certainly argue that war promotes complexity, it has for about 1000/one thousand years driven our technology to where we are today. However it also kills humans and other life, and as such each human lost reduces our total potential for increasing complexity, so war is a net loss for the species, and is abandoned in the 21st century warrior ethos<sup>7</sup>. This ethos views every human, at levels that beyond our perception/ comprehension, as a potential for the expression of complexity, and as such, must be protected. No matter how much of a doofus their actions of the moment may make them appear. Nope, this ethos does not in any way prohibit a strong discussion about personal behavior, and the rights of the rest of universe, so it promotes not only complexity, but personal politeness as reaching ambition frequently encounters the complexity of effective resistance (can also be read, the effective resistance of complexity).

As the infinite collision of energy waves that is universe continues to collide into infinitely more complex patterns endlessly, we note that the enlightenment experience, at least the classic all-pervading, all-encompassing white light of infinite connection to all life can easily be interpreted as a mind running into the shocking wall of realization that all that exists in universe, including ourselves share a single thing/point in common from the day of our entrance into matterium until the day of our withdrawal, that is, the only true constant in universe, the Ever Present Now.

The Ever Present Now, or EPN, in the parlance of our times, is grasped by the new warrior code as the connection directly to universe that validates existence. The Mayan 'life code' (without regard to their understanding of it) of "All is One. Life has Purpose. Universe is Love." is quite accurate as we will all discover living through the rest of this decade. As Lao Tsu noted, 'without love, no courage, only brutality'.

It will take courage, and not brutality, to get through this next decade. So grab those you love, hold on fiercely, and repeat the motto of the 21st century warrior's code....i shall not allow [this] to defeat me. Onward into complexity.

Oh, if there is a bit of pie about...can't hurt.

Courage mon ami, courage.

---

<sup>7</sup> yes, seemingly paradoxical that a warrior code eschews war, but that is asymmetry for you....left out of right field.

·
·